Dr. Fischer Group

Information regarding the current Corona situation

Dear Business Partners,

we take the call of solidarity from our Federal Government and the current development as an opportunity to adapt ourselves and our working habits to the situation. Our aim is to slow down the wave of infection as much as possible in order to prevent overloading of our health system.

As Dr. Fischer Group, we follow the actual situation and adapt our reactions and measures to them if it became necessary.

Of course, the health of our employees comes first and we have taken many measures to protect them as much as possible. But it is also our responsibility to ensure that the spread of the Corona virus has as little impact as possible on the business operations of the Dr. Fischer Group.

With the measures we implemented already, we can ensure at any time that we are reachable for you during our usual business hours via the normal communication channels. It may be that individual employees can only be reached via their e-mail addresses.

Currently we do not see problems regarding to our promised delivery dates. Should there be any postponement of the deadlines, our sales department will contact you and find solutions.

Since the current situation can change at any time, we will inform you immediately about any changes on our homepage.

Sincerely and stay healthy

Anna Wallner

Managing director
